Supported in part by the Smith College Department of Mathematics and Statistics, the Provost's Office of Smith College, NSA through Discrete Math Days in New England, and Anonymous Donors

This is an announcement of a mathematics research conference to be held in memory of Michael O. Albertson, March 26 - 28, 2010, at Smith College, Northampton, MA, USA. The conference is entitled "CoNE Revisited: Celebrating the Inspirations of Michael O. Albertson" and focuses on his areas of research interest, graph theory, combinatorics, and discrete geometry. With Professor Ruth Haas of Smith and Professor Karen Collins (Smith'81) of Wesleyan University, Professor Albertson ran at Smith, from 1992 until 2001, a series of CoNE (Combinatorists of New England) conferences, whose open, collaborative, and diverse style we plan to emulate in this memorial conference. All are welcome to attend the talks and social events; more details, including registration information, can be found at

A commemorative volume will be published by Ars Mathematica Contemporanea with articles from Professor Albertson's collaborators and colleagues. Please send any questions about the conference or the volume to
